Good Health and Well-being

Good health and well-being ■

Prince Sultan University is fully committed to good health and wellbeing which is clearly reflected on different fronts. On research front, the university faculty members produce quality research on health issues from different perspectives, particularly computer science and engineering. PSU has entered into collaborations with local and global health institutions. For example, the university's prosthetics centre collaborates with Sultan Bin Abdulaziz Humanitarian City in Saudi Arabia and Nia Technologies Incorporation in Canada. The university also pays great attention to the health of its students and staff through wide range of policies, services and activities. Few such instances are smoke-free policy, mental health support through counselling offices at both male and female campuses, arrangement of campus visits by different hospitals and health centres to raise awareness of important health issues, such as diabetes, breast cancer, drug abuse, etc. The university extends its services to the local community to improve health and well-being through different strategies such as organizing blood donation campaigns, visiting hospitals and schools by outreach committees, holding mental health awareness sessions from Psychology Club and providing sports training through physical education clubs. The university makes its sports facilities including swimming pools, basketball and volleyball courts and football pitches, accessible to the local community in pre-scheduled programs. Additionally, the university arranges regular sports competitions for schools and other institutions and offers special sports training programs for different age groups.
